The Plant Sensation of 1942

NEW HARDY PINK CRAPE MYRTLE

See color picture on front cover.

The Southland's beloved plant now hardy to northern Massachusetts. This lovely plant, heretofore considered hardy only to Philadelphia, is now available in a strain that survives our cold northern winters to leap from the ground in spring and present its breath-taking bloom to bless the home grounds.

The parent plants were discovered in a high location near Cincinnati, Ohio, at which point, the previous winter, the temperature had reached 20 degrees below zero. These plants had grown to a height of more than 3 feet and a spread of 2 feet, and were in full mass bloom. Cole has propagated many fine well-grown plants from these originals and now for the first time, exclusively, offers them for spring planting.

Cole's New Hardy Crape Myrtle is continually covered from July till frost, with buds bursting into glorious, fluffy, soft pink blooms having crinkled, crepe-like petals. The flowers, as they fade and fall, still remain attractive with their bright green receptacles capped by many golden stamens. The foliage is dense, leathery, glossy green on an upright and symmetrical bush. Here is a truly unsurpassed spectacle in summer bloom.

May be easily grown in any good garden soil and should be given a loose mulch over the winter.

FUCHSIA, SENORITA

— Cole's 1942 Introduction

(See color plate back cover.)

Fuchsia Senorita is the first offspring of the famed "Scarlet Beauty," the original member of this special strain of Fuchsia riccartoni, which was so successfully introduced in 1940. Senorita is even harder, more breath-taking in its beauty. Plants are more upright with very pleasing bright, glossy green foliage. The jeweled pendent blooms, 2 to 3 inches long, of flaming rose-red with corolla of lovely mulberry-purple, are borne profusely along the stems and nestled in the outer fringe of foliage. The beauty of the bloom is especially enhanced by the fact that the sepals stand very nearly horizontal showing off the large mulberry-purple corolla to great advantage. The bursting of the stamens, showing the bright golden yellow, adds immeasurably to the color effect. Flowers continuously from early August until frost, reaching a height at maturity of 3 feet, spread 2½ feet. Does particularly well as far north as the north temperate zones. These plants should be protected with a light mulch over the first winter.

NEW HARDY FUCHSIA

Senorita

Senorita is even more lovely than Fuchsia, Scarlet Beauty, introduced in 1940, and so widely acclaimed by gardeners everywhere. Senorita is the first glorious offspring of the famed Scarlet Beauty, the original member of this special strain of Fuchsia riccartoni.

Senorita, hardy and of vigorous growth, comes into flower in early August and continues its abundance of strikingly beautiful bloom until severe frost—a period when color is so limited in the garden. Reaching maturity in about three years, the plant, strongly upright, attains a height of three feet with a spread of two and a half feet.

The jewelled, pendent flowers, fully two to three inches long, of flaming rose-red with corolla of bright mulberry-purple, are borne profusely along the stems and nestled in the outer fringe of foliage. The plant, never leggy, foliage from the ground up and is a pleasing bright glossy green, providing a color combination of rare charm and beauty.

Husky Plants: 75c each; 3 for $1.75.

Extra Strong Plants: $1.25 each; 3 for $3.00.
